THE E. DUNN STORE HAS FINE SHOWING OF NEWEST STYLES

Many Attend the Fall and Winter Opening Yesterday.

EACH DEPARTMENT COMPLETE

Autumn Fashions Are Sombre in Their Colorings, But the Variety of Fabrics Is Surprising; Hats and Checks
Are Very Popular in New Suitings.

The annual exhibition of fall and winter fashions at the E. Dunn store is attracting large crowds from Connelleville and surrounding towns. The ideal weather yesterday brought out one of the largest crowds in the history of the store, every department being thronged with seekers of fashions. The latest styles for fall and winter, each department is completely ready for the occasion and the large display of merchandise is wonderfully fascinating. All the new weave materials and harmonious colors are represented, and all are attractively displayed.

Autumn fashions are more or less sombre in their colorings this season, but the variety of fabrics for millinery, afternoon and evening gowns, is surprising. The popular materials include serges, broadcloths, wool poplins, duvetynes, gabardines, velours, novelty tweeds, corduroys, in popular colors such as Russian green, African brown, taupe, held pinks, blackberry, burgundy, midnight blue, navy blue, black and white checks, and black. The new silks shown in addition to the flowing line of open machine were especially attractive in their rich colorings. Plaid being greatly in vogue, many striking combinations were shown, while taffeta, crepe de chine, crepe mouton, faille, and other fashionable silks, were shown in the newest shades. Handmade gold and silver lace, fancy and plain braids, exclusive designs of all over lace, and fur, the season's favored trimmings, were neatly displayed.

Special attention is paid by the firm to the children's department, one of the largest here in recent years. Several display cases were devoted to showing of jewelry, gloves, plain and fancy silk hosiery, silver and leather purses, and all the newest novelties in ladies' neck wear. Ralph Cuthbertson has charge of the entire first floor.

In the ladies' and misses' suit department is shown an extensive collection of distinctive models of the latest serges, velvets, broadcloths, duvetynes, fancy mixtures, in many effective styles. There are more tailored and semi-tailored models than in many seasons. Both the tailored and fancy models are shown with the short and three-quarter length coats, with the military and box effects, set-in sleeves and belted with fur collars and cuffs. The coat jacket at the waist line with a belt, the lower part having a tendency to flare, is also very popular. The circular and pleated skirts, with or without pockets, are well shown. In the misses' department there are many smart and effective models at along the junior and youthful lines.

The display of ladies' and misses' coats was unusually large, practically every style in the market being represented. This season's coats are extremely smart and are fashionable and beautiful fabrics. In length they range from the three-quarter to the full length. Some are fashioned along tailored lines, while others are richly trimmed with fur, and are suitable for the driest of seasons.

The authentic showing of misses' and women's dresses appealed to the feminine taste in their unusual style and beauty, while the showing of waists was equally as large and attractive. Many stunning effects were shown in reproducible line in black and white and flesh color. There was also a large assortment of plain tailored models. The exhibition of fur included beaver, seal, pointed fox, lynx and fish.

Nothing that is new or favored in millinery is missing from the display of milliners' creations, favored by fashion's dictates. The display is comprehensive and beautiful. This season every woman may have a becoming hat, because the diversity of shapes and size is almost limitless. The many handsome models shown included the O'Neil and puritan hats, the tiny close fitting turbans, the large and medium size cloches, and many other exclusive shapes. Popular trimmings are gorse ostrich feathers and fancy ribbon, fancy novelties and bows and flowers, while the prevailing materials are velvet, plush and velour. The smart tailored hat of velour was also shown in some very stunning effects as was the tulle crown models, which are extremely popular. Miss Midge Hearn of Pittsburg is the new milliner, who, M. Hearn is at the head of the millinery and ladies' ready to wear department. The carpet department was stocked with all the newest designs in carpets, curtains and linings in the market. The store was attractively decorated, appointments significant of fall predominating. The two display windows were devoted to millinery, ladies' suits, furs and children's apparel. P. G. Goshert was in charge of the decorations.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEP. 24, 1915.

NEW CHILD LABOR LAW.

The new child labor law, passed by the last session of the state legislature, and which goes into effect the first of next January, materially changes the conditions under which children may be employed in local factories or throughout Pennsylvania.

Probably the most important single feature of the new law is that providing for continuation schools for minors that are employed in the industrial establishments of the state. These schools must be attended for eight hours each week by minors between the ages of 14 and 18 years. The schools, themselves, are to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and to be located either in the establishment where the minors are employed or in a school building or other building designated by the school directors of that district.

The only cases wherein minors will be excused from attending these schools are those where the continuation schools have not been established within reasonable distance of the place of employment of the child. Employers of minors required to attend these schools must permit them to be away from work and attend the schools during regular school hours, and the schools are not to be held on Saturday or after 5 o'clock in the afternoon or before 5 o'clock in the morning.

No minor under the age of 14 may be employed in any establishment, and no boy under 14 years of age may work in any street or public place at any trade. The law further provides that where children are working in the streets that boys under 16 years and girls under 14 years shall not work before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 5 o'clock in the evening.

The hours of labor for children under 16 years has been reduced to fifty-one hours per week and nine hours per day. The eight hours allowed for school must be included in this fifty-one hours per week and nine hours per day.

Employment certificates are required for minors between the ages of 14 and 16 years as heretofore, but the method of issuing the certificates has been considerably changed. Under the new law, the application for an employment certificate must be made by the parent or guardian of the minor or, if the minor has no parent or legal guardian, by some one more than twenty-one years of age. The application must be made to the superintendent of the school district or to the secretary of the school board in the district where the minor lives.

Under the new law two classes of certificates are provided for, a general employment certificate and a vacation employment certificate. The general employment certificate entitles the minor to work on any day, except on the regular school days.

In order to receive a general employment certificate, the minor must present to the school authorities the following papers:

(a) A statement signed by the prospective employer, stating that he expects to hire the minor, and setting forth the kind of work and number of hours per day and per week during which the minor will be employed.

(b) A report from the principal of the school which the minor last attended, stating that the minor had completed the sixth grade in school.

(c) A certificate of physical fitness from a physician approved by the school board, stating that the minor has been examined by him and is physically qualified to do the work for which he is applying.

(d) Proof of the minor's exact age. This proof must be by means of a birth certificate, baptismal certificate or in case of an immigrant, a passport. In case none of these proofs or other documentary evidence is available, the statement of the examining physician, accompanied by the affidavit of the child's parents, may be accepted.

In order to procure a vacation certificate, the same papers are required as for a general employment certificate, except that the minor is not required to have finished the sixth grade in school and it is not necessary for him to present a statement from the principal of the school which he last attended.

Judge McConnell of Westmoreland county failed of election at the primary, which is unfortunate, but it is not too late to remedy the matter in November. Judge McConnell is a valuable man on the Westmoreland bench, and the voters ought to see to it that he remains there.

Board bill jumpers often jump right into jail.

The Uniontown Standard tells its readers that the four members of the Conneltsville Council elected at the primary are Democrats. The Standard is following the advice of a former politician upon a famous occasion in political history. "Claim everything with confidence."

That Uniontown bill house was disorderly all right.

The steel industry story has been reviewed again. It is always interesting, and some day it may stir more when the Trusts are not so watertight.

Some contested elections are embarrassing.

Strikes at the munitions plants are getting scarce by the hour.

AT SCOTTDALE CONVENTION

A resolution was passed in each meeting that since Westminster is only half-way lifted in Congress and the Legislature out of the reach of the influence of the "and" through the selection of a question members of the Legislature and Congressmen (Protest) who voted for the prohibition amendment and since the non-attentive judgeship campaign place this allows the same thing to be done that membership is continued in the Westminster Temperance Federation.

In response to recent notices wherein I reference Minn's guarantee to refund the money in any event that where his remedies fail to effect a cure, I will refund the full price of all ailments that I give for all sorts of his remedies. The big demand, however, is to get the money back. I will fixative pills. They're certainly giving satisfaction, the benevolent, the healthy, the energetic and curative qualities and as the demand increases. Professors Minnyson wants to get the money back. I'll pay upon every person who suffers with stomach or liver ailments, and particularly all constipated people. It's my duty to get the money back. He says they arrest indigestion and absorb the bowels to rest every day and to get the money back. If the person is bad, if you have dizzy spells, if you are bilious and if you have indigestion, you can get the money back. I'll give you these pills with the understanding that if you are not satisfied your money will be returned. No keeping, no waiting, no fussing. It's a natural movement every day. You get well almost immediately. I guarantee that you will get the money back. I'll give you these pills without the use of the old-fashioned cathartics, which cause weakness and debility. You get a new ache or pain of his kind, you better get it in time of Minnyson's Remedies. Also don't forget that we are carrying his With Pills, with the money back to soup over sold at 19 cents a cake.

WEALTH IN GROUND TO PAY HUGE DEBT OF WEST VIRGINIA

State Proposes to Tax Coal,
Oil and Gas to Settle
Virginia Claim.

EXPERTS GET DATA IN REGION

Commission Will Submit Plan to the Legislature Providing Production
Tax as Means of Lifting Heavy Burden
Added to the State's Debt.

The natural resources of West Virginia must pay the huge debt of $10,000,000 owing the state of Virginia, according to the decree of the Supreme Court, as her share of the old state's debt at the time the new commonwealth was formed.

A commission is now at work formulating a comprehensive scheme for presentation to the next Legislature of West Virginia by which it will be possible to meet the obligation. The most generally accepted theory is that the natural resources of the state should produce the needed money, and to that end expert committees have been appointed to study the problem. A representative of the commission was in Connellsville last week for the purpose of obtaining data on the coke trade, with a view to arriving at some equitable basis for coal and coke taxation in the Mountain State.

A production tax on coal, oil and gas is proposed and probably will be recommended. No figures have yet been determined, but the total suggested of one-fourth of a cent per ton will be imposed on all coal shipped from the state. The amount is made that this production tax would not be so heavy as the one proposed in an event it could be passed on to the consumer. It will be levied by the state and not by the county, and it will be levied on the coal at the mine, and not on the coal at the time it is shipped to the consumer. The tax will be levied on the coal at the mine, and not on the coal at the time it is shipped to the consumer.

As the coal is produced, it is subject to a tax of one-fourth of a cent per ton, which is a very small amount, but it is a tax on the coal at the mine, and not on the coal at the time it is shipped to the consumer. The tax will be levied on the coal at the mine, and not on the coal at the time it is shipped to the consumer.

The coal operators will enter a strong protest against a production tax. They say that the coal industry of West Virginia is already in a precarious condition. The workmen's compensation law is proving a serious burden on the coal operators. The coal operators are already in a precarious condition. The workmen's compensation law is proving a serious burden on the coal operators.

A production tax on coal, they declare, will result seriously in the industry, and might cause greater suffering through loss of employment for thousands of workers than the other means of taxation to meet the Virginia debt.

Coal and Gas Taxation Cured. No one who has seen the production tax will doubt the statement of Mr. Brown, who has been in the coal industry for many years. He says that the coal industry is already in a precarious condition. The workmen's compensation law is proving a serious burden on the coal operators.

Every Man Who Wears $15.00 Clothes Should Come Here Today

—That is, of course, if you care to receive absolutely the best values you ever had the good fortune to be offered for this amount. Our suits at $15.00 are positively the best the market affords today. This last statement from a clothing man who knows what's what.

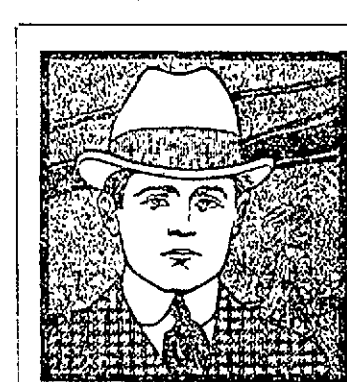

—Every man expects to get a serviceable suit, but he has a right to expect more. Here you get all the service any man could want, together with the very latest and smartest style touches. If you know anything about cloth, you'll know how really desirable these cassimeres and finished or unfinished worsteds are. All the best colors, including browns, greys and many pretty fancy mixtures. Many of the suits have 2 pairs of pants. Could anything be better for the man who wants an every-day suit? Come in and look around, even if you shouldn't care to buy.

Many Models of a Better Grade at $20.00 to $30.00

—With a specially fine value at the former price. Each season more men are buying their clothing here, and it is small wonder when they can select from such makes as Society Brand, Hirsch Wickwire, Michaels-Stern, and others of almost equal prominence. The best dressed men come here, for when they get a suit here they know it's right in every way. Right in style, right in fit, and right in price.

How the New Overcoats Have Been Coming In! Many to be Tagged $15

Some are double breasted and form fitting. Some have patch pockets. They vary in length from 42 to 50 inches, with 46 inches the standard. Here you may choose from browns, greys, over plaids, blues, and blacks.
